

Use of antiperspirant active ingredients for the manufacture of preparations for reducing the production of sebum.